Founder's Message

The Big Change!!!

Dear Friends,
We at Light of Life Trust have been taking up tough and challenging problems, to bring about "The Big Change".

We as you know work tirelessly for the underprivileged in rural India. Our focus is on the core issue of education as a tool to break the generational cycle of poverty. Simultaneously we deal with challenging issues like:-

- Extreme poverty;
- Poor Healthcare;
- Failures / lapses in / weakness of our educational system;
- Vocational training and skill development;
- New/improved / effective agricultural techniques

These issues we believe are the biggest obstacles which prevent people from making progress in their lives.

For each issue, we provide innovative solutions for instance

- Digital e-learning kits;
- Solar panel facilities in schools to provide electricity;
- Introduce tools and techniques to farmers for better and higher yields resulting in increased income;
- New methods to train teachers to help students in the classroom and prevent school dropouts;

We at Light of Life Trust are partnering with Foundations round the globe to take on these tough challenges!

Some of our projects have achieved great success. Our flagship "Project Anando" has succeeded in educating more than 12627 underprivileged children in rural India. This has created a big sea of change in the family's economic equations. Parent's income being as low as ₹ 3,000/- whereas the educated youth start with ₹ 10,000/- to ₹ 25,000/- ~ What a phenomenal breakthrough!

We feel the essential role of philanthropy is to transform social and economic conditions of rural India. Poverty being problem number one we choose to work on this issue to see that every human being gets a chance to live a successful, healthy and productive life!

Our Motto:
Light of Life, Way of Life!

May we with our enlightened partners continue to work towards progress and an empowered rural India.

Let us all join hands to partner and bring about the Big Change!

Be the Catalyst! Be the Change! Be the Big Change!

God Bless You All!

Gradually Tushar's trust in the social worker and self-confidence increased. Through group work he met students who were facing similar problems yet attended school regularly. Being a part of this support group made him feel he is not alone. Since his earnings were a matter of survival for his family, under the circumstances Tushar worked for 2 days and focused on studies the remaining days. Student Friendly Supplementary Education Programme (SFSEP)

Student Friendly Supplementary Education Programme (SFSEP), an integral component of the Anando programme focuses on academic development of Anando beneficiaries since 2007. This is a program designed to give quality inputs to Anando children, who lack in academic basics in English and Mathematics through daily classes.

Teaching methods are designed to maintain a balance between teaching basic concepts (the alphabet in English, basic arithmetic operations), improving basic 3R skills (Reading, Writing, Arithmetic) and teaching the syllabus.

SFSEP aims to create independent individuals who seek knowledge and continue learning even without a teacher/guide at their side. The teaching methods are non-traditional, innovative, participative and, most importantly, responsive to the actual needs of the students.

Highlights

● Understanding the needs – Academic Baseline

Intensive academic baseline tests are conducted to measure the Reading, Writing (First language & English) and Maths levels of students at the beginning of the academic year to give the teachers a clear picture of where the students stand. The tests were conducted with more than 90% of Anando students in 2018-19.

● Annual Teaching Plan – SFSEP team undertook a detailed process of preparing an Annual Teaching Plan for the respective regions and centres. This process was important this year due to the changed curriculum of Std. VIII & X in Maharashtra State. This gave the team clarity and helped in monitoring and tracking the students academic growth.

● Teaching Learning Material - Considering the learning from all these years, the focus of SFSEP is on using innovative, meaningful, easy-to-use aids to teach, learn, revise and emphasize upon important concepts in both the subjects. In many regions, teachers themselves make these aids, and also get students to make them as a part of group-activities, thereby boosting their knowledge and confidence. This material is used effectively. They adorn the walls of the classrooms as well as the homes of the students, who are asked to take home the additional charts and TLM. These aids have provided essential visual backup for learning and retention of concepts. Students take pride in displaying them in their school and at home.

● National Maths Day Celebration - The National Maths Day was celebrated in all the regions, as a tribute to India's great mathematician – Srinivasa Ramanujan. Quiz and elocution competitions on Maths were conducted. Khopoli Centre in Raigad District conducted an event that included Maths projects, charts & learning aids, drawings & paintings, and even Maths songs...! As a result students who openly disliked Maths before this event became the most regular and hard-working students in Maths classes. Maths teachers of 3 Khopoli schools were felicitated for their contribution to the subject and the students, at the hands of the Mayor of Khopoli – Mrs. Awsarmal, who praised the students, the teacher and the organization wholeheartedly.

• Students have achieved and maintained their position as the top 5 performers of their schools, in the first and second semester exams. Many of them are toppers in English and Math, in their schools. The school teachers acknowledge this development and the effort of LOLT behind it.

● Student's Day was regularly conducted in the classrooms, wherein students, in planned groups every 2 or 4 weeks, delivered and taught different topics in their class. This has slowly and steadily brought even the academically weakest students to the forefront, and built their confidence. The bright students became brighter and the below average students have built interest and self-belief by raising their own levels.

● Students becoming teachers and leaders has arguably been the most important achievement of the SFSEP programme. Working with selected disadvantaged students, right from the basics, it is the highest indicator that the students have become self-dependent in terms of learning – they “learn to learn”; or in other words, “learn to teach themselves”.

He has nurtured the 65 saplings plants over the years to ensure to that all his plants survive. Despite being illiterate, he never let it come in the way of attending any agriculture trainings, exposure visits, or any programmes organised by the LOLT team. He would eagerly learn new techniques and skills and implement the same. His dedication has led to 100% plant survival which have finally borne fruit.

Village : Sagachiwadi (Matheran) District : Raigad

In the year 2015 under the Environment Conservation Programme he received 65 fruit bearing saplings. The survival of these plants was a huge risk for Kamlu, as the water to irrigate his plants was 4kms away from his field. Despite all hurdles he ensured the saplings were watered daily. He was determined to make this venture a success, so he went the distance to fetch water for his plants every day. 3 years of hard-work, persistence and patience is finally bearing fruit (literally). It is a great pleasure to see Dagdu in his field today plucking the first batch of fruits borne by the plants.

Name : Narayan Babaji Padir Taluka : Karjat
Village : Batlichiwadi District : Raigad

Narayan is a 40 year old farmer who lives with his family of 6 members. Their family occupation is farming and they cultivate vegetables during the rainy season. In 2018, Narayan was given 52 fruit bearing saplings which he carefully planted on the land around his house. The well is 1 km away from his house and so his wife would help him to carry water from there on a bullock cart every day. In this way they worked hard together to ensure the survival of all the plants.

All beneficiaries of the environment conservation programme were given training on tree maintenance at regular intervals. Narayan attended all the trainings which covered topics such as: water treatment methods, drenching methods, mulching and natural pest management techniques. LOLT staff paid regular visits during this time to provide hand holding support and even guided Narayan on ways to increase his vegetable production.

With the guidance of LOLT and his family's hard work the growth of all 52 plants has been very satisfactory and the trees will start to bear fruit within the next two years. Other villagers and neighbours who come to see the trees are inspired by the efforts put in by Narayan and his family.

In 2019 Narayan became a beneficiary of the water wheel distribution programme and was given a water wheel of 45 litre capacity. Now it is much more convenient for him to water his trees every day.
